I. LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL DIRECTIVE

On June 16, 2005, the Legislative Council adopted a resolution (LCR 05-01), which in SECTION 2, item #16, directed the Commission to study the fiscal impact of federal mandates on local schools (HR 85 - Rep. Koch).

II. INTRODUCTION

House Resolution 85-2005 called for the creation of a study committee to study the effects of state and federal mandates on public schools in Indiana. The Commission met on September 22, 2005, to hear from Rep. Eric Koch, author of the House Resolution, to hear testimony, and to review information provided by the Department of Education and the Legislative Services Agency.

III. SUMMARY OF TESTIMONY

At the meeting, Sen. Kenley recognized Rep. Eric Koch who introduced the topic. Mr. Chuck Mayfield, Fiscal Analyst for the Legislative Services Agency, Mr. Jeffrey Zaring, State Board of Education Administrator, and Dr. Bill Riley, Budget Analyst for the Department of Education, made presentations on the topic.

Mr. Mayfield distributed a memorandum (attached) that listed the various federal and state mandates on Indiana public schools. Mr. Mayfield highlighted the most significant of these requirements in his presentation.

Rep. William Crawford asked how many Title 1 schools exist in Indiana, referring to Title 1 of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 6301 et seq.). Mr. Zaring responded that there are about 800 schools, mostly elementary. Rep. Crawford asked for a listing of the schools and how much money they receive under Title 1. That list is attached.

Sen. Kenley asked about special education and noted that under the current requirements, Indiana's special education requirements are more stringent than the federal special education requirements. Mr. Zaring confirmed the point, but said Indiana's regulations pertaining to special education are now in the process of being rewritten.

Sen. Lindel Hume described a resolution that he had once authored that called for mandates on school systems to be funded. Sen. Hume also related that many of the superintendents with whom he has spoken believe that many of the things required by the State could be accomplished in a less cumbersome manner.

Dr. Frank Bush, Executive Director of the Indiana School Boards Association, drew a distinction between two types of mandates. Some mandates are simply rules that enforce consistency in the operation of the public schools in Indiana. The other type of mandate include unfunded mandates that impose significant costs on public schools.

The Commission concluded its hearing on the issue and the minutes of its September 22, 2005, meeting may be referred to for more details.

IV. COMMISSION FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The Commission reports to the Legislative Council that the mandates were reviewed but no findings were made on whether a particular mandate is funded or not and no recommendations are made to the Legislative Council by the Commission.

This Status Report only contains information relating to the Legislative Council's directive. For information on other topics addressed by the Commission refer to the meeting minutes. The Commission's meeting minutes can be accessed from the General Assembly Homepage at <http://www.in.gov/legislative/>.

Re: Fiscal Impact of Federal and State Mandates on Local Schools

Date: September 21, 2005

Legislative Council Resolution 1-2005 assigned the study of HR 85-2005 to the Commission on State Tax and Finance Policy. HR 85-2005 urged the Legislative Council to establish a committee to study the impact of state and federal mandates on Indiana public schools. Attached is an outline of federal and state statutes which can be viewed as mandates on public schools. If the statute stated that a school shall or must do a particular task then it was included as a mandate. The estimate of the fiscal impact is the gross impact of the expenditures and does not evaluate the funding sources. There are some tasks that are not mandates but maybe part of the education process. For example, schools are not required to provide transportation or school lunch, but if they do, then there are certain procedures they must follow. The study identified 107 mandates, 21 federal and 86 state. Of the 107 mandates, the fiscal impact of 22 of the mandates remain unknown and the impact of 29 of the mandates are included in the estimate for the instructional cost of the length of the school year and day mandate. The fiscal impacts of each individual mandates can not be added cumulatively to determine the mandated cost of education, since some of the mandate's fiscal impacts overlap and some are unknown.

Federal Mandates

The largest identified federal mandate was special education at about $586.5 M in FY 2005. The next largest is the social security payments of about $310 M per year. The impact of the No Child Left Behind mandate is primarily the cost of administering the ISTEP test. The consequences of not making adequate yearly progress applies to Title I schools and school participation in Title I is a voluntary.

State Mandates

The largest identified state mandate is the length of the school year and day at about $3.1 B. The impact of mandated curriculums and testing is included in the $3.1 B impact. The next largest identified impact was collective bargaining estimated at $274 M, followed by kindergarten at $122.5 M, and Teachers' Retirement Payments at $116 M.

Fiscal Impact of Federal and State Mandates

Federal Mandates

- No Child Left Behind
 - Testing in English and Math Grades 3-9 and at least once in grade 10-12: The cost of administering the test is covered in the estimated instructional cost for the Length of the School Year and Day below.
 - Develop and administer science assessment at 3 grade levels: The cost of administering the test is covered in the estimated instructional cost for the Length of the School Year and Day below.
 - Test Limited English Proficient Students: The cost of administering test is covered in the estimated instructional cost for the Length of the School Year and Day below.

- Mandatory Education Program on Constitution Day: Fiscal impact is covered in estimated instructional cost for the Length of School Year and Day.
- Social Security: Local schools are required to pay 7.65% of covered payroll. Salaries for schools are about $4 B annually so social security contributions are about $310 M per year.
- Accounting System: It is unknown if or how much the uniform accounting procedures have added to the administrative cost of schools.
- American Disabilities Act: The primary cost is the additional construction or rehabilitation cost for schools. The Department of Local Government Finance approved construction projects of about $1 B annually. If ADA has added 10% to the cost then the impact is about $100 M annually.
